

INDEX

We have attempted to index all names including known and probable maiden names. Therefore, a name that is indexed might not appear in caps – please look at the entire name. Example: Mary Jones Smith will be in the book as SMITH, Mary Jones and will be indexed that way as well as Jones, Mary.

When an entry is known by initials only, for example: A.J.S. our indexers indexed this under the “S” – assuming the “S” was the last name.

Personal knowledge of some of our indexers is included in the index. If you find additional information in the index that expands on an entry within the book it means someone helping had personal knowledge regarding this entry.

As the cemeteries were surveyed index cards were made at that time and kept in alphabetical order. This system has enabled Helen and Norma to answer many researcher’s questions. In the final step on the book the page numbers were added to those index cards. Approximately 100 names were on index cards without page numbers in the final check so the last job in the indexing process was to go back and search for each of these names one page at a time. There are now only 8 such cards. If in the index you find a name followed by a dash, without a page number it is one of these mentioned above. We believe these people are listed in the book but were unable to locate them.

Funeral homes are given in the book because often further information can be obtained from that source however they are not indexed.

Infant is indexed by parent’s name only (in most cases) or as follows. For example: Smith, Inf of John & Mary. Index reads: Smith, Infant; Smith, John; Smith, Mary.

Other things to be wary of: Check all spellings – Brook, Brooke, & Brooks. Also many females in this county have names usually thought of as men’s names such as George, Cecil, Willie, Clyde. Many times women were identified by initials only.

The indexing of this book has been an enormous job. Daily work under the leadership of Norma Gunby with volunteers numbering from 6 to 12 took almost three months. Some volunteers gave over 40 hours per week on a continuous basis. Words cannot express our gratitude to these dedicated genealogist. Please see the last page of the book for a Picture of many of these devoted workers (these are not indexed!).
